

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I have a phone with minimum service and 150 minutes per YEAR for my 14 year old son, for emergency use only. Please keep the rates low for pre-paid phone service with minimum minutes. We did not choose a $40 a month plan or a plan where it costs $20 per month for each extra family member, because we can not afford it. We do like the security of knowing that our teenager can give us a quick call, in an emergency.

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Dale Harman
